INTERNSHIP NEWS

Finding a job or internship during this Covid19 pandemic will be challenging, but there are still many great opportunities out there! You just need to dig a bit more and be more creative in your search. Most of the coveted PAID media, entertainment, sports and general COMM internship sites are recruiting NOW for summer. Spamming career web sites and job listings is an ineffective way to find a great job or internship. With the increased acceptance of remote or hybrid internships, your own tenacity and persistence will set you up for success. Read more..

TIPS FOR SUCCESS

College can be an exciting and overwhelming experience. Many students embrace the newfound freedom, social life, and the challenges of academic endeavors. However, few students understand how quickly the college experience will turn into a job hunt. Many students regret not using the college years to build the credentials needed for career success.
